ABOUT OUR BOOK....

Never ending . . . ever present . . . slowly, silently . . . in darkness and in daylight . . . the tide ebbs and flows . . . there is no ending -- no turning back . . . the water moves onward, as we at Bourne move forward . . . just as there is no turning back for the waters of the canal, neither can there be a turning back for us . . . we can see the tide and we know . . . we know that we shall always be a part of our alma mater no matter where we go . . . ships pass through the canal . . . so do we journey through school . . . each of us seeking his individual goals, just as a ship seek its destination . . . in each case the journey is so meaningful, so full of joy and purpose . . . as the tide rises and falls, fond memories of the teachers and of friends appear and reappear . . . may you remember . . . never forget . . . just as this couple overlooks the canal from the bridge and reminisces, may you, too, remember.

Let these pages provide for you vivid reminders of your high school days . . . may this entire book be a thesaurus in which memories of your happy times and fond acquaintances at Bourne are kept alive . . . may you return not to leave as the ships may do, but to stay and ponder and remember.

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Wilfred H. Graves, Superintendent of Schools

TO THE GRADUATES... FROM THE SUPERINTENDENT...

How many times have we heard people say, "What a nice person!" We are attracted to nice people.

I am not referring to the physical features which indeed may be assets. These are superficial qualities, and their effectiveness may pass as the years go by. They do not necessarily help people to be nice.

It is the deep, inner qualities to which I refer. These are built upon a personal courage, a willingness to work, a searching for some good in their fellow man, liking him for these qualities, and therefore developing the joyful experience of serving others unselfishly.

These are qualities which may be our heritage when we will accept and use them.

FROM THE PRINCIPAL...

There is no shortcut which leads to an education. By the same token an education cannot be obtained in a bargain basement. It is the result of consistent, conscientious effort, motivated from within by a burning desire to achieve far beyond the level of mediocrity. Education results in those qualities which tend to make the future for all somewhat clearer and more secure. It results in people's rising to the colossal challenges of a generation living in exceedingly complex times and meeting them well. The future is for him who plans for it, even sacrifices for it; for in this planning and sacrificing is the reward of the inner satisfaction of a job well done and the realization that future problems will be somewhat easier to solve.

Mr. Walter J. Stahura, Principal

GUIDANCE

"What am I going to do after graduation?" Our Guidance Director, Mr. John Gray, was often confronted with this question.

Throughout the year Mr. Gray helped students plan their courses of study, counseled them in their problems, and guided them on the pathways of success.

Like other members of the faculty, he was always busy because of double sessions.

"Time's up! Test's over." Mr. Gray appears in a familiar role.

Mr. Gray advises a student on her plans for the future.

SECRETARY

Two of the school's unsung heroes are Mrs. Dorothy Holland, secretary to the superintendent, and Mrs. Stella Dvorski, secretary to the principal.

Confronted with double sessions and two sets of students, the secretaries smilingly met all requests for supplies, records, and information about the school.

ACCOUNTANT

Students saw a new addition to the administrative staff. Mr. Alex Consoni, situated in the far corner of the office, is now considered one of the "regulars" and performs the services of accountant of the school. Paying the bills and handling the bookkeeping, he kept the school's finances on a sound basis throughout the year.

Mr. Alex Consoni, Accountant

SCHOOL NURSE

Checking on the health of the largest number of students in the history of Bourne High, our school nurse, Mrs. Frances Stowell, was constantly kept on her toes. She administered eye and ear tests and arranged for our "athletic-minded" students to have their physical examinations.

OFFICE GIRLS

Six a. m. . . . lights on! Ten p. m. . . . lights off! These were the long hours kept by our custodians.

From before dawn 'til after dark, "Red" Burns, John Fougere, and Russel Selig were busy spreading sawdust, sweeping, washing windows, and repairing the ever-sticking lockers. Although our double sessions caused many complications in the performance of their duties, we enjoyed an immaculately kept building throughout the year.

CLASS OF 1960

A top slate of officers and energetic advisers brought the Class of 1960 to another one of those years which have won for it the respect of the entire school. Paper drives, a highly successful Christmas candy sale, the annual Junior Class Christmas party were all high points of the class year.

Doubtless, the high spot of the year was the Junior Prom, which was regarded by all as one of the most successful ever presented in the school.

CLASS OF 1961

After having submitted to every imaginable hardship as freshmen, the members of the Class of 1961 returned to school determined to take the upper hand with their new-found prestige. Having mastered the confusion of double sessions and of coming to school at the unearthly hour of 12:15, they soon settled down to asserting their influence over those novices—the Frosh.

Not only did the class establish enviable records scholastically and athletically, but it also made many contributions to the school in the realm of extracurricular activities. The Halloween party and the Christmas play produced by this class were both regarded as considerable successes.

If ever there was a year for superlatives, this is the one! Not only was it the year of the largest class ever to enter Bourne High, but also it was the year of one of the greatest classes the school has ever seen. Many an upperclassman stood in awe of the vi-talities of these youngsters, some 140 strong. As a class they fared exceptionally well in athletics with their terrific zeal, and they did very well also within the realm of academics. A large number of these youngsters attained honor roll standing.

Hurry, hurry, hurry! Deadlines confronted the stalwart band who brought out the 1959 Canal Currents. The editorial staff, headed by editor Neil Minihan, ran helter-skelter nearly every day after school to complete the book.

cropping were editors Jackey Gaddy, Stephen Lawless, and Sharley Halopoff. Other editors, who also came under the guiding hand of Mr. Stuart Jones Jr., were sports, Norman Bayes; seniors, Judy Kelley; and art, Melissa Drew and Pat Hill. Panic and worries were the order of the day, but the final deadline was met.

"Have typewriter, will travel" That could certainly be a motto for our hardworking, even overworked, business staff. Our business manager and financial czar was George Tomlinson (who seemingly solicited advertisements from every company in the U. S.). Second in the chain of command of the business staff was advertising manager Judy Gaddy. A staff of high-pressure ad salesmen brought the financial returns necessary for the publication. Off in their own little corner of Room 20, they typed and tabulated and gave the yearbook the spark it needed — money!

After the planning and the financial campaigns had been adequately settled, action began to put the book in top shape. And action it was! Many were the long hours spent by the artists, the sportswriters, and the ubiquitous typists, all aiming at the production of one of the best "Canal Currents" in many years. Few were the teachers who weren't annoyed by members of the staff in their wild quest for pictures. On those days when the flash bulbs popped—and a few tempers too—the material for a large portion of the book was being assembled. These pictures, both candid and posed, gave a heartening story of Bourne High life.

A special distinction is reserved for those students who maintain an eighty-five or better average and distinguish themselves in the other aspects of Character, Leadership, and Service. This honor is membership in the National Honor Society. This year the Society assumed a more active role than in the past, with the sponsoring of a highly effective homecoming for alumni at Christmas time, a Valentine's Dance attended by more than seventy couples, and several other activities. Under the able direction of Mrs. Elinor Larsen, adviser, and Neil Minihan, president, the Society held two very impressive induction ceremonies. The presentation of a scholarship served as a fitting climax to a year of service.

STUDENT COUNCIL

After a two-year absence, Bourne again found itself with an active Student Council. The morning section was under the direction of Mr. Allen and the afternoon section was headed by Mr. Carrette. The Council took part in a variety of school activities.

Members sold "Bourne" pins during the football season, guided parents on Education Night, and placed a decorated Christmas tree in the first floor corridor. Highlight of this school year was attendance of the annual meeting of the Eastern Massachusetts Student Council held in Bridgewater.

seniors score smash hit

"Two minutes 'til curtain" was the cry on that fateful evening in December as the curtain rose on the seniors' production of Elizabeth Carey Gilbreth's chef d'oeuvre "Cheaper by the Dozen." With hours of rehearsal behind them, the young thespians performed in top-notch form before an audience of 500. The warm applause of the audience was a clear indication of the high quality of the play.

CHORUS

Every Thursday morning during activity period, the exhilarating voices of Bourne's Chorus were heard amid the hustle and bustle of school life. Throughout the year this chorus of one hundred and fifty students performed for many school musical programs. The high point of the chorus' year was its performance in Boston's annual Christmas festival.

BAND

"Band practice at 6:45 — Bourne Grammar School" was the familiar call to the more than forty members of the Shawme School Band. Many were the days on which these impresarios braving all types of weather, turned out for football games and pep rallies. Our band performed in top shape at the beach buggy parade, the opening of the Bourne Armory, and the PTA Show. Officers in the Band were Richard Canning, president; Duane Reynolds, vice-president; Janet Shay, secretary; Rebecca Braley, treasurer. All are looking forward to another successful year under the able direction of Mr. Carlton Thorne.

ART

While Double sessions proved cumbersome to many extracurricular activities, they were most advantageous to the art class. Although there was large attendance in both the morning and afternoon art periods this year, Mrs. Irene Walker, Bourne's versatile art instructor, always found time to give individual attention to each student. Throughout the year the members developed their artistic talents in many activities including water coloring, sculpturing, charcoal drawing, interior decorating, and puppet making.

Head majorettes with three years experience were Helen Lamken and Judy Tripp. Those contributing with fine baton twirling were Carol Gibbons, Winnie Dotson, Jeannie Lamborghini, Bonnie Lamken, and Joyce Mitchell. The Bourne majorettes were present at all home games and made a wonderful showing at the "Turkey Day" game in Wareham.

This year, enjoying the services of a new faculty advisor, Mr. Anthony Troy, the 50 boys and girls elected a top slate of officers with Jackey Gaddy, president, Ann Pippin, vice president, June DeForest, secretary, and Donald Dodd, treasurer.

As the season got under way, the members were seen throughout the school distributing the well-known "A. A." tickets for admission to all the school-sponsored sports activities. As football season got under way they took their posts to distribute and collect tickets and to sell their well-known refreshments combination, coke'n chips.

JUNIOR PROM

1958 Prom Queen, Jean Tucker

When May rolled around, the social event of the year was in the wind. This could only mean the Junior Prom. Last year was no exception, and as that evening of May neared all the school was in a dither. All kinds of last minute arrangements were going on. The Prom's theme was "an evening in Paris" and the various committees were intent on making our gym look exactly like a cafe on the Champs Elysees in gay Paree. When at last the evening arrived it slipped by too fast, seemingly in a moment. Highlights of the evening were the grand march and the crowning of Jean Tucker as Queen of the Junior Prom.

Practice? When? Where? These were the major problems as the '58 football season rolled into view. The double sessions made afternoon practice impossible, but Coach Bachland neatly solved this problem by uniting his two-shift students in nightly drills at Sagamore.

The '58 edition of Bourne football boasted many returning lettermen and several other varsity members. Many key injuries, coupled with ineligibilities, kept the starting ranks thinned through the season. The three heart-breaking ties, which could have been wins with an even share of breaks, dominated the poor record.

Trouble ahead. David Archambeault meets four Bridgewater tacklers on an end run.

The Purple Wave got off on the right foot in the wrong kind of weather as it drubbed Provincetown 34-2. In the first period halfback Norman Bayes swept left end for the first score of the season. Soon after, Phil Curry scampered 40 yards for the second Bourne tally. Shortly before halftime, Bob Driscoll intercepted a pass and Coach Bachand began clearing his bench, but the touchdown parade didn't stop as Corradi and Bayes each tallied to round out the day's scoring.

In a rugged defensive battle, the Canalmen fought a larger Weston eleven to a scoreless deadlock on the latter's home field. Bourne played its best ball of the season as it held the Weston single wing power offense in check throughout the contest.

After a classy 40 yard scoring pass from Ed Savage to Charlie Weston was called back, Bourne seem to lose the drive it had in the first half at Bridgewater. The final score was 20-0.

Where's Charlie? Ed Savage, eyeing receiver, fades back as Bridgewater line rushes.

Phil Curry on the move against Dartmouth.

Where are my blockers? Bob Pipkins prepares desperate pass as Dartmouth tackler moves in.

The Bourne players were wondering when that second victory would appear. It seemed that the Dartmouth game would be "the one" as Canalmen ripped gaping holes in the Green's defense. Only when the Purple neared the goal line did the attack bog down. In the third quarter, however, during 70 yards in 6 plays, Bourne scored its first touchdown since Provincetown, climaxing it with a 40 yard scoring jaunt by Dave Archambeault. Late in the game Dartmouth scored for a second time to clinch the game 18-8.

Who said the P-Town game was all wet? Playing in the worst weather in several seasons before a handful of brave fans, Bourne held a stubborn Dennis-Yarmouth squad to another scoreless tie.

Goal line defense was the outstanding factor as the Regionals continually drove deep into Bourne territory, but it was thwarted by the Purple line. In the second half the Canalmen put together two good drives, only to have the ball change sides as the muddy pigskin squirted loose.

After fighting back from a one-touchdown deficit, Bourne finally succumbed to Falmouth by 16-6 count.

With good protection, Art Watt punts the Purple temporarily out of danger as Bourne tacklers move down the field.

Wayne Upton fades to pass as a hard-charging Wareham line closes in.

In the most "wide-open" game of the year, the Canalmen lost a highscoring 44-26 game to offense-minded Dighton. After trailing 44-6 in the fourth period, the Purple brought the crown to life as quarterback Bob Corradi, a passing demon, powered the team to three touchdowns in a matter of minutes. The highlight of this surge was a 55 yard TD pass play, Corradi to Bob Driscoll.

The club was strengthened the following week by newcomers Phil Cunningham and Wayne Upton, and battled rugged Case High to a 6-6 stalemate. Upton was a work horse in the Bourne backfield as the Canalmen came from behind to even the score on a nine yard jaunt by Cunningham.

As in recent years, Bourne was a solid underdog going into the annual Thanksgiving classic with Wareham. This did not deter our boys, however, as the team belted the blue up and down the field for forty minutes, only to come out on the short end of a 16-14 score. Wayne Upton gave Wareham fits with his long distance passing. The burly tailback, throwing like a pro, hit receivers Phil Cunningham, Bob Driscoll, and Ed Savage consistently as the ground attack would not function.

Phil Cunningham takes off around right end in the Thanksgiving Day classic.

The dream of all Bourne fans came true this season when the Canalmen trotted onto the Boston Garden court to meet St. Thomas of Jamaica Plain in the semi-finals of the Tech Tourney. The Purple experienced little trouble in winning 68-52.

The Bourne team finally ran into a club with too many horses in the Tech finals as powerful East Bridgewater defeated our heroes 75-68. The game was nip and tuck all the way as the lead changed hands or was tied 23 times. Ed Savage and Wayne Upton did a stellar job scoring 23 and 20 points respectively.

This Bourne team endeared itself to all loyal fans with its aggressive and high scoring brand of ball which enabled it to compile a great record and retire three more trophies to the trophy case. The club won the Cape Large School League crown, the Cape Principals' Tournament, and second place in the Tech Tournament via a sparkling 15-4 record.

Rumors ran rampant during the Autumn months as to whether the 58-59 edition of Bourne basketball could possibly emulate the record of last year's team. There were sound pros and cons on this issue. Had not graduation taken such stars as Bob Cahoon and Pete Mackesy?

Had not Arvin Arthur and Rod Valentini been lost for the season? On the other hand wouldn't the squad be bolstered by the return of Ed Savage and Wayne Upton, and the rise of Bob Driscoll, Phil Cunningham, and Bob Pipkins from the ranks of the Jay-vees?

Weston has shot blocked by Barnstable defender.

Pipkins goes high for a score

It was not long before this issue was decided. The club got off to a flying start, winning four straight games before losing to Dartmouth 65-58. By this time it was apparent that Bourne was going to have its first "varsity five" in years. These five boys, Wayne Upton, Charlie Weston, Bob Driscoll, Phil Curry, and Ed Savage carried the club on their shoulders throughout the season.

After the Dartmouth loss, the Canalmen proceeded to establish themselves as the class of the Cape with four solid triumphs over Barnstable, P-Town, Orleans and Falmouth.

Hard fought action off the boards

Curry snares rebound against Falmouth

At this point the Purple were beaten by a fired up Dennis-Yarmouth combine by a score of 65-62. This game was quickly followed by a 67-58 beating at the hands of rugged Dartmouth.

Something happened to the Bourne team at this point, for they proceeded to roll up seven straight wins and were not stopped until the finals of the Tech Tournament.

At the end of the regular season Bourne was "kingpin" of the Cape with a 7-1 record in the Large School League and a 10-3 overall mark. The club had already qualified for the Tech Tournament but first there was some unfinished business to complete — that being the winning of the Cape Cod Principals' Tournament which Bourne came so close to copping last year.

In the semi-finals the Purple played Harwich High, and in one of the most thrilling games of the season the Rough Riders were beaten 62-60 on Ed Savage's last-second jump shot.

Bourne was determined to avenge its season loss to Dennis-Yarmouth as the two teams met for the Cape Championship. It was the general opinion of all that this was the best game a Bourne team had played in years, as the Canalmen buried the regionals 84-67. The entire starting team hit double figures.

Tap off; Ed Savage versus Falmouth's Nick McDonald.

In the first round of the Tech Tournament, Bourne showed that they were not just a Cape team as they blasted Weston 70-44. In another classy, high scoring game the Purple had all they could do in beating tourney favorite Marshfield 76-74. Again the starting five were all in double figures.

As far as scoring went, the entire varsity five was well over the "century mark" in individual scoring. The breakdown is as follows:

	points average
Charlie Weston	285	15.0
Bob Driscoll	281	14.8
Ed Savage	270	14.2
Wayne Upton	249	14.6
Phil Curry	171	9.0

The team broke a school record by scoring 1354 points for an average of 71.2 points per game.

Won 2 — Lost 10

Not overlooked among double sessions difficulties was the girls basketball team. In fact, they felt the axe more than any other school activity. The jayvee schedule had to be dropped entirely since underclassmen were unable to participate.

In the season opener the Purple lasses displayed good form in losing a morale boosting game to powerful Sandwich, 49-41. This contest was quickly followed by a 53-47 win over Falmouth.

After four straight losses the girls rebounded with a 44-37 win victory over tough Wareham. However heavy losses due to scholastic difficulties prevented the team from winning further engagements. Forwards Eleanor Stahura and Janice Willey led the scoring.

Much credit should go to coach Loretta Baxter and the team members for sending the Bourne colors onto the court.

Steady does it!

From top, clockwise: V. Mitchell, J. Gaddy, F. Bernabei, J. DeForest, J. McKelvey, M. Drew, J. Kelley.

T-E-A-M, yea team!

This familiar phrase was heard throughout the year at our football and basketball games and pep-rallies.

Early in September the cheerleaders began spending long hours of practice in the gymnasium. They planned pep rallies and their spirit spurred Bourne's team on to many victories.

From the rain drenched football field to the bright lights in the Boston Garden one could always count on these girls keeping the spirit and noise at a high level.

The 1959 CANAL CURRENTS was published by the Delmar Printing Company of Charlotte, North Carolina. Photography was done by the Purdy Studio of Boston and Judy McKelvey, assisted by Winifred Dotson.

We, the staff, are deeply indebted to the following who were more than willing to offer their time and services for the publication of our yearbook:

Mr. John McNamara, for his patience and helpful assistance.

Mr. Robert Vantine, the representative from Delmar, for his guidance and friendly advice.

Mr. Herbert Castro, whose excellent photography has added much to our book this year.

Mr. Walter Stahura, our principal, whose unfailing kindness we greatly appreciated.

Our advertisers and patrons who made possible the publication of our yearbook through their financial support.
